The CD Rams baseball team is beginning a new tradition for all of our home games. Our seniors would like to recognize their most influential teachers here at Central Dauphin. Each home game, we will be inviting one of these teachers to come out to be publicly thanked and throw out the ceremonial first pitch before the game begins. This is just a small way to say thanks for helping to make their high school experience a memorable one. Look for more information before today's home game against Solanco. The team and the seniors especially thank you for your support.
